

I am very happy to see you again.

Though one year has passed already, I felt it very short, maybe because my last stay was very happy and gave me a strong impression and I was looking forward to my second visit.

My subject is soil science and climate change.

Soil is the background of food production, natural ecosystem, human culture and human health.

I want to explain this in my lectures.

In addition to the contents of last year, I have added some more contents on plant nutrition and climate change problem.

Therefore, the schedule of my lecture and practice may have become very tight. I want to manage it by your cooperation.

I hope my presentation will be helpful and enjoyable for you.
