

Soils distributed in the plain, terrace, and hilly area in Myanmar are follows:

Hilly area (east)

- Orthic Acrisols
- Humic Nitosols

Hilly area (west)

- Humic Cambisols
- Ferralic Cambisols

Central plain, terrace, and basin

- Chromic Cambisols
- Chromic Luvisols
- Pellic Vertisols
- Humic Gleysols
- Eutric Gleysols
- Ferric Luvisols
- Dystric Nitosols

Estuarine area

- Thionic Fluvisols

For the explanation for these soils, please refer to the web-site of WRB.

<http://www.fao.org/docrep/003/Y1899E/Y1899E00.HTM>

I attach here the partial copy of FAO soil map covering the north-eastern part of Myanmar published in 1977, which I purchased in 1983, as well as the summary of the characteristics of different soil units. Comparison with the USDA Soil Taxonomy is also given in these tables.